

WCES 2013

The Desires of Ramkhamhaeng University Students for the Development of Self-Realization via Weblog

Apicha Dangchamroon, Ph.D

Ramkhamhaeng University, Ramkhamhaeng Rd., Bangkok 10240, Thailand.

---

Abstract

This study aimed to procedure consisted was the development of the questionnaire to study the desires for the development of self-realization via weblog. The respondents were 264 students whose major was elementary education. Mean, standard deviation and the consistency of the specific contents (IOC) were used for data analysis. Research methodology is the approach of Survey research used to collect the information. The finding 76 percent of the respondents was ready to learn through weblog at home (4-5 times a week). Also, weblog was used as reflective writing for (1)learning lessons in life, and (2)gaining knowledge for their study.

Keywords: self-realization, weblog:Introduction

---