

GRADUATE QUALITY ACCORDING TO THAI QUALIFICATIONS FRAMEWORK FOR HIGHER EDUCATION

Wirayut Phonphotthanamat

Faculty of Political Science, Ramkhamhaeng University, Bangkok, Thailand

E-mail: wirayut@ru.ac.th

Pakarang Chuenjit

Faculty of Political Science, Ramkhamhaeng University, Bangkok, Thailand

E-mail: pagarang.ch@gmail.com

Anchalee Ekpakdeewattanakul

Faculty of Political Science, Ramkhamhaeng University, Bangkok, Thailand

E-mail: ek.anchalee@gmail.com

ABSTRACT

The aims of this work are to evaluate graduate quality in accordance with the characteristics within Thai Qualifications Framework for Higher Education (TQF:HEd) and to compare the results of graduate quality during the period 2013-2017. Quantitative methods with descriptive statistic are used to conduct this work. Secondary data of the graduates from faculty of political science, Ramkhamhaeng University are selected as a case study. The results showed that the graduates of a case study meet standards of TQF:HEd with high level, between 4.00 and 4.19 from 5.00, throughout five years. The most striking characteristic is moral and ethics skill.

Keywords: higher education, quality assurance, graduate quality